COURSE EVALUATIONS/COMMENTS

What were the best qualities of this course?

- The course practically flew by, but the instructor was great help; taught very clearly.
- The instructor's methods of teaching and grading.
- Instructor was very open and approachable. He used good examples from the book.
- The lecturer. He made things clear.
- The instructor taught the material in a clear and concise manner which made the course interesting.
- Instructor's teaching style: patient, stops for questions, wants students to pass unlike Professor Villaverde.
- Class goes by fairly quick- due to Ali's teaching techniques.
- Text is easy to understand and clear.
- Beginning to apply physics to engineering problems.
- The instructor was very clear and understandable.

How could this course be improved?

- Maybe quizzes once a week.
- More help from TA staff, more homework practice.
- To continue employing instructors such as Ali to teach the course.
- Grading on homework was a bit unfair.
- It shouldn't be a five week course.
- Extend course length to eight weeks or ten weeks.
- Never allowing Villaverde to teach it. Having more instructors like Ali.
- More assignments (problem solving). Two midterms (instead of one)
- Instructor can show more difficult examples in class.
- Availability of homework solutions should be announced at beginning of course- not the day of mid-term when it's too late. Some people work full time. It would be nice to have one discussion session scheduled for the evening.
- Solutions to all problems. i.e. solutions manual.
- It moved really fast, but I guess this is to be expected at Summer Session courses.

"Great T.A. Explained everything slowly, clearly and was considerate to students."

"Doing a good job."

"Should prepare problems he is going to do during discussion before he actually does them. When he sometimes gets confused during a problem, I get confused."

"Why isn't he teaching CE30 Lecture?"
